

Contents

Foreword
The High and Low of 130/30 Investing	xi
Structure of the Book	xxiii
Acknowledgments	xxix
INTRODUCTION
Evolution of the Active Extension Concept	1
PART ONE
Active 130/30 Extensions and Diversified Asset Allocations	9
CHAPTER 1
Active 130/30 Extensions and Diversified Asset Allocations	11
PART TWO
The Role of Quantitative Strategies in Active 130/30 Extensions	45
CHAPTER 2
Active Extension—Portfolio Construction	47
CHAPTER 3
Managing Active Extension Portfolios	59
PART THREE
Special Topics Relating to Active 130/30 Extensions	71
CHAPTER 4
Active Extension Portfolios: An Exploration of the 120/20 Concept	73

CHAPTER 5
Alpha Ranking Models and Active Extension Strategies	91
CHAPTER 6
The Tracking Error Gap	103
CHAPTER 7
Correlation Effects in Active 120/20 Extension Strategies	119
CHAPTER 8
Alpha Returns and Active Extensions	135
CHAPTER 9
An Integrated Analysis of Active Extension Strategies	149
CHAPTER 10
Portfolio Concentration	167
CHAPTER 11
Generic Shorts in Active 130/30 Extensions	185
CHAPTER 12
Beta-Based Asset Allocation	197
CHAPTER 13
Beta Targeting: Tapping into the Appeal of Active 130/30 Extensions	215
CHAPTER 14
Activity Ratios: Alpha Drivers in Long/Short Funds	237
CHAPTER 15
Generalizations of the Active 130/30 Extension Concept	257
PART FOUR
Key Journal Articles	267
CHAPTER 16
On the Optimality of Long/Short Strategies	269

CHAPTER 17
The Efficiency Gains of Long/Short Investing	297
CHAPTER 18
Toward More Information-Efficient Portfolios	323
CHAPTER 19
Allocation Betas	343
CHAPTER 20
Alpha Hunters and Beta Grazers	365
CHAPTER 21
Gathering Implicit Alphas in a Beta World: New Questions about Alternative Assets	379
CHAPTER 22
Optimal Gearing: Not All Long/Short Portfolios Are Efficient	395
CHAPTER 23
20 Myths about Enhanced Active 120/20 Strategies	413
CHAPTER 24
Active 130/30 Extensions: Alpha Hunting at the Fund Level	429
CHAPTER 25
Long/Short Extensions: How Much Is Enough?	467
About the Authors	497
Index	501